

IVAILO ZVEZDOMIROV – BASS

www.myspace.com/izvezdomirov

Ivailo applied for the musical highschool in Rouse with oboe, but a year later was declared futureless by music specialists. He left the highschool and started playing bass guitar on his own.

Ivailo turned his disappointment into a personal ambition and three years later, in 1992, he presented himself brilliantly when he was admitted as № 1 to the National Musical Academy majoring bass guitar. In 1996 Ivailo graduated with an excellent GPA.

Until 2000 he played in “Dynamite Bras band” of Georgi Borisov (published LP/1998 Beautiful music for beautiful people”), in the jazz formations “Tambu” and “Bells” as well and also was endorsed by “Yamaha”. In 2000, after winning the audition, Ivailo worked for the “Big band” of the Bulgarian National Radio.

The mutual work between Ivailo and the drummer Venko Poromanski in all of the above bands helps them to form a sparkling rhythm section which has played with stars as Mike Stern and Frank Ilt.

Ivailo’s presence on the stage gives confidence and a stable funky base of his band “TE”. He is an extremely strict musician who plays with his own style and sound.

At the moment Ivailo is bass player for the home band of “Music Idol” TV show.